NOTE.—Algeria, Tunis, nearly all of the Sahara, and the Niger Basin above the State of Gando belong to France or are within the French sphere of influence.

Morocco is an independent sultanate.

The coast country south of Morocco, including the Guinea coast, is divided up between Spain, Portugal, France, England and Germany by international agreements.. The kingdom of Sokoto and the lower part of the Niger Basin are English. The boundaries between the possessions of England, Germany and France in the "hinterlands" of Togo, Ashanti, etc., are being settled by commissions.

Kamerun is German, the Canary Islands Spanish and the Madeira Islands Portuguese.

Liberia is an independent Negro Republic. Descendants of freedmen removed from the United States constitute the dominant class.

INDEX TO MAPS

EXPLANATORY NOTE

THIS index contains some 250,000 entries. In addition to giving all the names on the maps it also includes alternative spellings and a great number of ancient names and names now obsolete, these being identified as accurately as possible with their modern equivalents.

The name of each place, river, mountain, etc., is followed by a reference letter and figure, which indicate the square on the map in which the name indexed will be found. The inset maps are divided into imaginary squares formed by the meridians and parallels of the main map extended across them.

Names of inhabited places, using the term in its widest sense, are indexed without any accompanying description whatever. Hence all index entries not followed by a description are to be regarded as the names of inhabited places, e.g., Mount St. Francis River, Cedar Lake, Ellison Bay, are the names, not of physical features, but of towns. On the other hand, index entries of physical features or of geographical or political divisions are marked as such by placing a bracketed description after them, e.g., Averö (island), Finistère (department); by bracketing the descriptive part of the entry itself, e.g., (Cape) Fleming; or by putting the essential word first and following it by a comma and the descriptive part of the name without brackets, e.g., Fleming, Cape.

Entries beginning with the following prefixes are, except in special cases, indexed under the first word only:—

Abu	Hagios	San	Szent
Black	Nörre	Santa	Tel (town)
Campos	Ostre	São	Vestre
Château	Saint	Sondre	Webi
Grand (English)

Compound entries beginning with the following prefixes are indexed under the essential word only:—

Ain	Col	Mong	Val
Ban	Kara	Plain of	Valley
Camp of	Kiang	Po	Volcano

Other entries beginning with such prefixes as "Cape," "Great," "La," "Le," "Mount," "New," "North" and "South" are, as a rule, double indexed, e.g., (Mount) Shasta appears also as Shasta, Mount.
